ESTIMATED THAT 2,000 WERE AT BIG AUCTION.

Nearly Half of the Lots Staked Out in the Slater Property Were Disposed Of—Mansion and Barn Sold—Will Continue Today.

Hundreds were attracted by the big auction sale at the Slater property on Thursday afternoon and it is estimated that fully 2,000 were in attendance during the afternoon. The lots were many beautiful prizes given away during the afternoon which were eagerly sought, the drawings being one of the interesting features.

The auction opened at 2 o'clock and there are 42 lots to be disposed of in the three days of the sale. Tubbs' hand, who is in attendance and gave a concert from 1.30 to 2 o'clock and there were distributed to the big crowd tickets for the drawings previous to the sale.

The auctioneer is Del Gillette and he keeps the crowd entertained as well as interested. He explained the restrictions on the property, which are that no building can be erected until a house is built, on any of the lots.

The property is sold by Broad street, and one man had bid in a lot at $24.50 a front foot, supposing that he was to get the entire lot for that price. He quickly gave up when he was told that was the price of a front foot. The first lots put up were on Broadway, when G. W. Carroll purchased Nos. 1 and 3 at $25.50 a front foot, they being nearly Broad street, the two having 117 feet frontage. At $30 a front foot and a total of 105 feet frontage, J. M. Paine of Danielson bought two lots adjoining the Carroll's.

On Broad street George W. Carroll bought five lots at $20 a front foot, while on Slater avenue, Broadway and Elmwood avenues, the name of a new street through the property, property was bought by Frank Hempstead, Mrs. Olive M. Platt and Mrs. M. M. Graham of Wauwecus Hill. Others also bid in property and the sale continued up to about dark with many still in attendance.

The mansion was put up for sale "ring the end of the street" and bidding started at $1,000 and it was stopped at $2,000, the bid of Emerson P. Turner, who is now the owner. He can have the privilege of buying the four lots on which the building stands for $1,000 a lot, but it is understood that he intends to move it, having a year in which to do it.

The barn was sold to J. R. McCannara for $700, the bidding starting at $100. He is to move it in thirty days and will probably place it on his vacant lot in Slater avenue. The auctioneer offered two lots adjoining the Carroll's for $10 a front foot, 10 per cent. down, 10 per cent. in 10 days and the remainder in monthly payments, while there is a discount for cash.

In Broadway the sidewalk in front of the property has been lowered according to the new grade established there and through the property a fine new road has been built with concrete walks on each side of the road.

ARGUMENTS BEGUN IN WIRE CASE

Jury will Get It This Afternoon and Session will Last Till

Verdict is Reached—Time for Arguments Limited.

The case of the state vs. Abraham Fox and others, the copper wire case, which has occupied the superior court for the past three weeks, will be finished today. The evidence was completed on Thursday afternoon and one of the arguments of the defense was heard. The court will come in at 9 o'clock this morning and Judge Wheeler stated that the jury should come prepared for a night session if necessary in order to finish the case. This is the twelfth day of the case.

When court opened Thursday morning D. J. Handelman was recalled for cross examination of his rebuttal testimony and was on the stand until noon, testifying to his talks with Gordon.

Morris Susman testified that Handelman rode from North Thompson street to North Cove street with him, week before last, he thought, but was not sure. After Handelman left the wagon he saw Charles Gordon and the two were left there by the witness.

Policeman Henderson testified that he saw Goldfaden in the junk shop of the firm on March 20, 1907, during the afternoon.

State Attorney Hull produced an affidavit made by Gertz in March, previously to the August when Mrs. Gertz asked the court to try her husband for her husband. This showed that he had then accused the men of the buying of the wire. This was offered to show that there was no malice on her part when she made the request. It was admitted as to the dates after a stubborn fight by the defendants' attorneys.

Blinderman testified that he saw Goldfaden driving his team the day following the publication of the theft of the bond wire. A man was with him. On the same day he saw Policeman Henderson at the junk shop. The policeman also called at the Blinderman store. The witness saw Chief Murphy and Sergeant Two-morrow. When the witness was called a rebuttal testified that he had no malice throughout the entire action, nor when he made the affidavit. He told Attorney Shields that he had not been promised immunity when he made the affidavit at Central Village before Mr. Prior. Attached to the affidavit was a note by C. E. Haselhurst to the effect that when the affidavit was made Gertz had not been present on any charge.

City Attorney J. D. Hall testified that the writ against the accused men was drawn July 6, 1908. This completed the rebuttal for the state at 2.55.

John S. Bennett, conductor on the Norwich and Westerly road, was called in rebuttal by the defense. He said he saw Handelman get on his car at Hewitt's and sit with Gordon, but he was not sure of the date. It was during the past summer. He told the state attorney that Gordon had asked him about the matter on Wednesday. He said saying he could not remember that the two men were on his car. This completed the testimony at 2.05 o'clock.

Arguments Opened.

Attorney Thayer asked for more time than the usual hour for arguments but the state attorney urged the finishing of the case as soon as possible, as there is a murder case and another case to be tried yet. Judge Wheeler allowed each side two hours and fifteen minutes. He asked the jurors if they could not be in attendance at 9 o'clock in the morning. One thought he could not, but after a short rest, he was able to be in attendance at 9 o'clock. The judge told them that a night session might be necessary in order to finish the case today.

The opening argument was started by Attorney Hall at 3.15 o'clock and he closed at 3.48, when Attorney Thayer opened and addressed the jury until 4.35, when court was adjourned until this morning at 9 o'clock. There remains about three hours and a half for arguments. At their completion, Attorneys Shields and Hull to speak for the defense. When the matter of jury and they will take the matter under consideration.

FUNERAL.
